NonResidential Students General Information

The Indiana State Legislature passed legislation altering Indiana Code 20-26-11-32, affecting the process public school districts must follow should a district accept nonresidential students. Below are some requirements of the law:

- Districts must determine annually, the capacity to accept out of district transfer students.
- Districts must publish the date applications for nonresident enrollment are accepted and the deadline by which applications must be submitted.
- Districts must give priority to children of nonresident employees, siblings of nonresident children of employees, current nonresident students, and siblings of nonresident students.
- Should applications exceed the capacity determined by the administration, students are to be selected randomly for acceptance.
- Nonresident applications may be denied if the student was, in the twelve (12) months preceding the application:
 - Suspended or expelled for ten (10) or more school days;
 - Expelled for firearms, destructive devices, or weapons;
 - Suspended or expelled for causing physical injury to a student (including fighting), school employee, or a visitor to the school;
 - Suspended or expelled for a violation of the home school or previous school's drug or alcohol rules; or
 - Has a history of absences or occurrences of tardiness to school; including instances of early dismissal or untimely pick-up after the end of the school day.

Parents/Guardians will be required to pay book rental and all other applicable fees in full.

Southern Wells Community Schools will determine the capacity to accept nonresident students annually per Indiana Department of Education guidance. The capacity to accept nonresident students will be determined by grade level. Students accepted as nonresident students will not be automatically approved annually. Nonresident requests will be reviewed each school year, with no transfers automatically carried over to subsequent school years.

Applications must contain verification of the student's attendance and discipline records. The verification must contain records from the student's previous school of enrollment for the twelve (12) months preceding the application. Applications not containing verification may be denied.

A student's continued nonresident status may be denied should he/she receive attendance or disciplinary consequences, while a SWCS student, consistent with those listed above for potential reasons for denial of an application.
